

Multi-Linguistic Software

Author: <>

Language translations to Italian, Finnish, Polish and French.

The VVD software has been translated to Italian, French, Finnish and Polish languages. Additional languages are being added. This enables the users to perform vessel calculations in any language (ex. Finnish) and print out the calculation results in any other language (ex. Polish). The same input files can also be used in any of the selected languages, so users in different countries can share the same design files and view the input/output data in different languages.