

Software for Finite Element Analysis for Pressurized Equipment

Ttailor made software for the use on pressurized equipment.

This software is tailor made for the use on pressurized equipment. The software has a number of predefined shapes and components that allows a very quick generation of geometry and auto meshing. Its scope of application encompasses all pressurised equipment whose geometric design or applied loads cannot be handled directly by design codes or as an alternative to the standard.